

Business Blog: Improvement is "Daily" and "Continuously"

Every day, we learn and the important thing is what we do with what we learn. Do we set aside the things we learn and continue on status quo, or do we take the things we learn and improve "Daily" and "Continuously"...

Quote:

"All men make mistakes, but only wise men learn from their mistakes."

When I first started my business, I was only 18 years old, and I had no experience; so I had to learn everything through "Trial and Error"; making mistakes, and then "not repeating the same mistake".

I feel that making mistakes is good for a business, and I have always kept this same philosophy even with my employees; I encourage them to make mistakes because it is one of the best ways to learn but...

I discourage making the same mistake "twice" (as this will hurt a business).

Quote:

"The only real mistake is the one from which we learn nothing."

I look at creating nails and building a business as a continuous work in progress.

I feel the day we start thinking "This is good enough", and we "Stop Learning", it will be the day we start getting bored, and getting bored can ruin a business; it stifles creativity and motivation.

Even now, after 29 years of doing nails and running my own business, I am still learning and improving "Daily" and "Continuously".

And, having FUN!
